A STATEMENT BY RICE

The Secretary of State Denies the Charges Made.

He Wants a Thorough Investigation of all His Acts.

Explanation of How State Contracts Were Awarded.

Thinks the Attacks are Animated by Political Hatred.

An Interview With Rice

DENVER, July 25.—In an interview with a representative of the Pueblo Chieftain to day, Secretary of State Rice had the following to say regarding the charges recently made against him:

"Many friends have advised me not to make any public statement at this time but to wait until a charge is preferred against me by the grand jury of this county or until such a time as the governor has made an investigation into the affairs of my office. It is from this advice is from friends in whom confidence I have the greatest confidence, it seems to me that the good people of Colorado, whose servant I am and whom I have lived for more than twenty years, are entitled to some expression from me, and that too as soon as possible after my return home. Yet it is true that I keenly feel this trouble, how could it be otherwise? I have been a citizen of Colorado for nearly twenty five years. I have a personal acquaintance with a great number of people in every county in the state. I have been twice honored by them by immense majorities for this office and have held many other important positions of trust in Colorado. During all this time no man has ever dared to utter one word against my integrity as a man or an officer.

"It is impossible for me in detail to answer all these charges so recklessly made, for I do not know what they are, but I am here to stay and will remain until there has been the most thorough and complete investigation of every official act of mine. I demand this and will be satisfied with nothing less. I can entire life of uprightness and honor to be destroyed by false and malicious charges, the motive for which is well understood! I denounce these charges so far as they in any manner affect my official acts or myself personally as false in every particular.

"I wish to call your attention to the statutes of this state with reference to the contract for supplies of furniture, stationery and printing for the department of the state government. The secretary of state is required to advertise for bids for about different articles for a period of four weeks, such advertisement to be published fifty days before the meeting of the legislature. Acting under this law I caused to be published for four weeks in the Denver Republican and Pueblo Chieftain the advertisement for proposals for supplies as published in the Associated press dispatches of a recent date. Mr. Jno. Lawrence & Co. and other firms made bids to furnish the stationery for the state. The Denver Times, the Colorado Springs Gazette and Collier & Cleveland bid for the state printing. There were no bids received for furniture.

"On the 15th day of December, 1888, all the bids were opened in the presence of the governor, the attorney general and myself as required by law, and the contract for stationery was awarded to Lawrence & Co., and that for printing to Collier & Cleveland. The legislature was about to meet, the rooms had to be furnished we could not again advertise for furniture, as we did not have the necessary time under the law, and there was but one thing left for me to do, and that was to buy the furniture. I went to Graham & Weber and told them I wished them to furnish the legislative hall and committee rooms in a manner creditable to the state, and that I expected to pay honest prices for the articles furnished. I purchased only those articles I deemed necessary and no more. The articles not purchased by me were ordered by the legislature through its proper officers.

"Of course every man in Colorado knows that I am not the custodian of property of the state used by the legislature during its session. I have every article turned over to me by the legislature when it adjourned, and I think this is substantially all that was ever purchased. I can and will satisfactorily account for every article that I have had anything to do with. Understand me I am now talking about the furniture for the Seventh General Assembly. I did not purchase the furniture used by the Sixth general assembly. Such articles as were turned over to me by that legislature I stored for twenty four months and paid $50 per month for storage. Part of this was sold before the last legislature met, and I have an account of every article sold and the price for which it was sold. This money, of course, belongs to the state. The articles not sold are still on hand and belong to the state. That furniture was not fit for use. This is a fact that any one can demonstrate.

"Now, about the stationery. The contract was awarded to Lawrence & Co. I purchased about $5000 for the use of the legislature. The legislature itself purchased the rest and certified to the correctness of the bills. I only certified that the articles purchased by them were in accordance with the contract price. I had nothing whatever to do with the articles they purchased. It was their business, not mine. During the session they were supreme. The same may be said substantially about the printing bills. These attacks on me animated solely by political hatred and malice will fall and if no other benefit comes from them, I feel sure they will arouse the public ... to the cruelty and indecency of such assaults."

Bishop Machebeuf's Will.

DENVER, July 25.—The last will and testament of the late Bishop Machebeuf was filed in the county court yesterday. Some estimate the will as representing as low as $500,000 and some as high as $1,000,000 in Denver church property and property throughout Colorado. The bishop's life insurance was $5,000. Archbishop Salpointe of Santa Fe and the Very Rev. John B. Raverdy, vicar general of Denver, are made executors of the will. The will will come up for probate on September.

The bishop made several bequests of $5,000 to various Catholic institutions in this city, and 200 acres of his farm of 440 acres on Clear creek in Jefferson county for a home for orphan boys. The interest on his $5,000 life insurance policy is left for the education of his

Lewis Bros. & Co. Fail

PHILADELPHIA, July 25.—Surprise was expressed in business circles this morning on the announcement that the firm of Lewis Bros. & Co., wholesale dry goods, Chestnut above Second, had made an assignment. While the exact assets cannot as yet be ascertained, it is thought that the liabilities will run up nearly four millions.

The concern is one of the largest in its line in the city and perhaps in the country. It has houses in many of the large cities of the United States, notably New York, Chicago, Baltimore and Boston. The members of the firm resident in this city are Geo. W. Wharton, Joseph W. Lewis and Henry Lewis. Wharton when seen this morning promptly admitted the correctness of the rumor that his firm had made an assignment. Cornelius W. Bliss of New York of the firm of Bliss, Fabyan & Co., he stated was the assignee.

"I am unable," continued Wharton, "to place the amount of our liabilities. However, I feel convinced that they will not be much in excess of our assets. Of course, it is impossible to determine these things until an examination of the books has been made. We are now going over our books and will probably know more definitely to night how and where we stand. If we could have had only two or three days more I am sure we would have been able to tide over the difficulties but the blow fell just at the wrong time, and our only course was to make an assignment, which we did. For some time past our business prospects have been bright, but you know you can't market 'paper.'"

NEW YORK, July 25.—The assignment papers of Lewis Bros. & Co were filed in the county clerk's office this afternoon. Cornelius N. Bliss was made assignee. The assignment was executed in Philadelphia.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 25.—The mills and banks here will be involved by the failure of Lewis Bros & Co to the amount of $600,000. The local banks have about $150,000 of their paper and the rest is divided among half a dozen mills. None of them will be seriously embarrassed.

BALTIMORE, July 25.—Prominent dry goods men here estimate that Lewis Bros & Co have in Baltimore more than half a million assets and no liabilities.

Wyoming Lynchers Act.

DENVER, July 25.—A special from Douglas, Wyoming, regarding the lynching of James Averill and Ella Watson on the Sweetwater, for cattle rustling, says: The man and woman were on their way to Casper and were surprised by the lynchers near the Sweetwater, and while in the act of hanging them a man named Buchanan, a friend of Averill's, appeared on the scene and fired into the mob, wounding John Durbin in the hip. The lynchers then pursued Buchanan, who rode fifty miles to Casper and told his story. Warrants were issued for the lynchers and a deputy sheriff with a posse of seven men started for the scene of the tragedy, arriving there on Monday morning, where they found the blessed bodies of Averill and Watson hanging from a limb of a stunted pine, their tongues protruded from their lips, their eyes hanging out upon their cheeks and their faces swollen and discolored almost beyond recognition. Judging from the signs, a desperate struggle had taken place on the cliff and both the man and woman had fought for their lives until the last. Their bodies were cut down and taken to the lonely ranch, where the coroner empanelled a jury, who found a verdict to the effect that the deceased met their death at the hands of John Durbin, Tom Sunn, J. R. Bothwell, Sam Johnson and a man named McLean. The two bodies were then placed in a box and buried on the ranch. The sheriff then proceeded to the ranch of Tom Sunn, who readily gave the names of the other lynchers. Sunn was taken into custody and the party went from there to Bothwell's ranch, where he was also arrested. Both prisoners admitted they had assisted in the hanging, and when informed that they would be taken to Rawlins Bothwell told the sheriff to take a look at every tree on his way back to Casper, as he would be likely to find six or eight more costly neckties hanging by the neck. The two prisoners were taken to Rawlins to day where they waived examination and were bound over in the sum of $5,000. It is thought that Sheriff Watson will reach there sometime to morrow with the other lynchers. All who participated in the hanging are among the foremost citizens of the Sweetwater valley. Durbin is from Cheyenne and is one of the pillars of the church. Bothwell is the son of a wealthy business man, and Tom Sunn an old pioneer scout known all over the west.

Villard's Latest Deal

WINNIPEG, July 25.—It has become known that as the result of Villard's recent visit here the Northern Pacific will [illegible] to secure control of the Manitoba Northwestern railroad. This road is 265 miles long as than 26 miles of branches. It extends in a northwesterly direction from Portage La Pearce, sixty miles west of Winnipeg and taps a magnificent agricultural country. The chief town is Prince Alberta at the forks of the two Saskatchewan rivers. It is the most important key to the vast Saskatchewan country and will prove an important feeder to the Northern Pacific.

VISITING KNIGHTS.

Colorado Commandery, No. 1, K. T. Visiting the City.

Royally Received by Pike's Peak Commandery No. 6.

Four Candidates Receive the Knights Templar Degree.

Guests Tendered a Ball and Supper at the Antlers.

Colorado Commandery No. 1 Knights Templar, of Denver and Pike's Peak Commandery No 6 of Colorado Springs have always borne the greatest friendship and have been intimately associated. When No 6 was organized No 1 came to the city and instituted a. Wherever the members of No 6 go in the city of Denver they are most cordially received by the members of No 1. The good feeling and friendship was further promoted last night by a splendid reception tendered the members of No 1 upon the occasion of a visit to this city.

The officers of No 6 have been making long preparations to receive their brethren from Denver for some days but the attendance and the success of the excursion to this city was even greater than anticipated.

The Sir Knights from Denver arrived over the Denver and Rio Grande railroad at 6.50 last night, occupying three cars of the regular train. There were about eighty knights in uniform and the ladies and others accompanying them swelled the party to about 170. At the depot they were met by the members of Pike's Peak commandery to the number of about thirty in full uniform, and escorted by the Fireman's band. Upon arrival the band played while the commands were formed in line, and the ladies escorted to the hotel. A line of march was formed consisting of the band Pike's Peak commandery as escort and Colorado commandery bringing up the line. The guests were taken immediately to the asylum in the opera house building, and as they marched along their fine appearance called forth a great deal of comment. It was a fine body of men, and their well known but handsome uniforms greatly heightened the general effect.

Arriving at the asylum the lodges went into session immediately for the purpose of transacting the business of the day, which was the conferring of the Knights Templar degree upon four members of the Masonic lodge of this city. The gentlemen who received the degree were J. C. Woodbury, David Meshane, M. A. Leddy and Anthony Bott. The work was performed by the officers of the Colorado commandery, and it was 11 o'clock before it was completed.

During the time that the lodge was in session the ladies accompanying the party had an opportunity to change their traveling dress and don evening attire, and they assembled in force in the parlors of The Antlers hotel. At 10 o'clock a lunch was served in the dining room. The tables were continually filled from that hour until midnight. According to instructions the hotel had only prepared to entertain a hundred or more, but by the time the doors were closed 225 persons had been fed. By the good management of Steward Leeland, however, all were amply provided for.

After supper the guests repaired to the ball room and passed an hour or two pleasantly in dancing. Music was furnished by Prof. Durgin's orchestra, and the order of dances was made up as the guests desired. Shortly after midnight the guests departed, tired but well pleased.

This morning they will be taken in carriages for a drive over the prettiest city in the west, Colorado Springs, and and then will visit Glen Eyrie, Garden of the Gods and Manitou. At two o'clock they will be served with a fine dinner by Sir Knight Barker, of the Barker house, and then depart for home.

The following is a partial list of the visitors: P. H. Riddell, Mrs. J. E. Pettit, H. B. Tuttle and wife, Miss Orahood, A. C. Bates and wife, W. B. Truefutt, A. Forsyth and wife, W. G. DENVER, July 25.—It is announced that the Denver, Texas and Fort Worth road will to morrow [illegible] a reduction of 18 cents per 100 pounds on first class freight from Denver to New York and the Atlantic seaboard via Galveston and the Gulf of Mexico. It is also announced that a further reduction of four cents will be made within a few days, making a total reduction of 22 cents. Arrangements are also being made to extend this reduced seaboard rate to Utah, Montana and all northwestern points. The action of the Fort Worth is causing no little consternation among the western trunk lines and several conferences of the railroad officials in this city were held to-day. Much speculation was also made as to the effect this cut will have upon western freight traffic and principally upon the lake and canal rates.

The 1892 Fair.

NEW YORK, July 25.—In response to invitations extended by Mayor Grant, representative business men generally of the city assembled in the city hall this afternoon to consider the project for holding an international exposition in 1892. The mayor presided.

The appointment of four committees, one on permanent organization, one on finance, one on legislation and another on site and buildings was decided on. The chamber of commerce this afternoon appointed a committee of sixty of the most prominent citizens to confer with the national, state and city authorities in promoting and making a success of the exposition.

NEW YORK, July 25.—The stock market was weak at the opening this morning but soon recovered and advanced steadily throughout the remainder of the day, scoring material gains before the close. The effects of the great city goods failure, however, created a bearish feeling among the trading element here and first prices were from ½ to ¾ per cent below last evening's closing figures, and by vigorous hammering at the outset further losses were established. A great majority of the list are higher to night, though the only marked changes were gains of 1½ in Union Pacific and 1 per cent in Northwestern.

The letter of Secretary of State Rice, which we published in yesterday morning's GAZETTE had the right ring to it. It is only to be regretted that he had not written this letter several weeks ago. Meanwhile, as Captain Rice has always stood in high repute among his neighbors, it is only just that judgment should be held until there is an investigation.

Mr. S. L. Loomis predicted the result of the tenth census within a very few thousands, and therefore is considered somewhat of an expert. He predicts that the census of 1890 will show sixty seven millions. However, it is easy to make these predictions, as the increase in population since the beginning of the century has been about thirty per cent every ten years. Mr. Loomis goes on to make predictions as to what the population will be in 1900. He figures that it will be a little over nine hundred millions. But before this happens there will be emigration from this country.

Northern Dakota has a section in its constitution providing that railroads shall not receive more than a just and reasonable compensation for their services. No one can object to the fairness of this. But most of our legislatures have been passing laws, or trying to pass laws, founded on the idea that railroads shall not receive a just and reasonable compensation for their services. The railroads in Colorado and those running into Colorado have not up to this time paid a fair rate of interest on the money invested in the property; and yet every two years the granger and demagogue elements try to pass some legislation that will reduce even what they are getting. It is pretty poor policy, when the different towns in the state are giving subsidies and other inducements to railroads to come to them, for legislatures to pass repressive laws and discourage them from making any extensions.

The formation of the constitution of the new states has started up a discussion on many interesting constitutional questions. A motion has been introduced in one of the state constitutional conventions providing that there shall be only one body to the legislature, instead of two. A large number of good reasons can be given why this should be done. It can be shown above all that the organization will be less unwieldy and that legislation can be more easily enacted. But it is not wise always to make legislation easy. A government that has the largest number of checks and yet at the same time is able to do its business, is the best one. For example in our national government we have a great many checks. In the first place, a bill must pass both houses. It must then receive the signature of the president or pass by a two-thirds vote over his veto, and then the law may be overthrown by the supreme court. Experience has shown us that this system of checks is a wise one. Either house of congress has often passed a bill which failed to become a law because the other house would not pass it, and as a general thing it is well such legislation should not be enacted. Sometimes both houses have agreed and passed laws which the executive has vetoed and which has not been passed over his veto as for example, the "inflation" bill of 1874. Few doubted the wisdom of the action of President Grant then or the unwise action of congress, and it was well that the veto prevented the legislative enactment from becoming a law. There is, however, an example of what might be called a one legislative body ruling a country that is a good one. But it is only because suffrage has been restricted for so many years and because the people, as a nation, are very conservative. England is virtually ruled by the house of commons. In any important measure neither the house of lords dare non concur nor the queen to refuse to affix the royal signature. It is the nearest approach to rule by a popular representative body that there is in the world. How much longer it will continue to rule wisely remains to be seen. The conservatism of its members has heretofore prevented any reforms being taken rashly. Many good measures have been killed in it, but few bad measures have been passed, so that the system of checks which we have in this country has not been so

A King's Debts.

CHICAGO, July 25.—J. T. Waterhouse, jr., a wealthy merchant of Honolulu and a member of the privy council, is here and says that King Kalakua's finances are not in as bad a condition as has been reported. He starts for the Paris exposition in a few weeks. He had money enough some weeks ago, but it child to wait and take a larger sum. His income is $30,000, and his debts $120,000.

Commercial Failures.

CHICAGO, July 25.—The following statement as to the situation of the Trans Continental railway association was made to a reporter for the Associated press this afternoon, by a very prominent member of the association. The published reports as to the terms asked by the Canadian Pacific and the terms offered by the Southern Pacific in the matter of differentials is inaccurate. The fact is that at yesterday's meeting the question of differentials was referred by the general meeting to the executive committee for consideration and report and by that committee referred to a subcommittee of four. This committee made a unanimous report but it is not entirely satisfactory to either the Southern or Canadian Pacific and it is now held under consideration by the executive committee. You may say that the situation is not going to place. There is a feeling to the contrary and there are only one or two exceptions to it that that there should be no differentials but at the same time in the interests of harmony small differentials will be conceded.

An Interesting Decision.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—The treasury department to day decided the interesting question in regard to the classification of so called garnetted wood waste. The question arose on an appeal by J. Wild & Co. from the decision of the collector of customs at New York assessing the duty at thirty cents per pound on a recent importation of that merchandise which they claimed to be dutiable at the rate of ten cents per pound. It appears from a special report of the United States appraiser that the merchandise consists of so called woolen waste which has been garnetted or put through the same process by which it is practically restored to the condition of unmanufactured wool of the first class.

In a letter to the collector Acting Secretary Bachelor says that the question as to the classification of merchandise of this character was decided by the department on the 20th of October, 1887. The department at that time held that woolen waste which has been broken up and put through a garnetting machine whereby it becomes practically scoured wool, that is to say when of the first class and selling under thirty cents per pound unwashed shall be assessed at thirty cents per pound. The collectors decision in the case in question is therefore affirmed.

A Fine.

LONDON, July 25.—The Parnell commission entered upon a long recess to day. When the court met this morning Hardcastle an accountant testified that the books of the land league, which had been produced before the commission, covered the whole period of the league's existence. He could not say that £75,000, which was unaccounted for, owing to the absence of the Ladies' league books, had been misappropriated. Soames, solicitor for the Times, in reply to a question by Sexton, said he could not tell within £10,000 the amount the Times paid its witnesses. The sum, however, was very large. This concluded the taking of evidence and the court adjourned to meet again October 24th.

Justice Hannen ordered Thomas Condon and John O'Connor, members of the commons, who, while serving sentences in Ireland for offences under the crimes act, were brought to London to testify before the Parnell commission, to complete the remainder of their terms in London in prison.

The Chinese May Pass through.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—The treasury department has acquiesced in the opinion of the attorney general that Chinese can pass through United States territory in transit to foreign ports, and the practice of the department, which has been exactly the reverse, will be modified accordingly. Instructions were sent to day to the collector at New Orleans to permit the landing of the Chinese who recently arrived there on their way to China.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—The committee appointed by Secretary Noble to investigate and report upon the manner of rating pensions in the pension bureau during the past year has been busily engaged in examining cases and a report is being prepared at the pension office showing the number of cases made special during the four months of Tanner's administration. It is stated that the number is less than one th[illegible]

The Indian Matrimonial Market.

The unmarried British female has fresh cause for complaint, says a London dispatch to the New York Sun. It is not enough to have Englishmen marry Americans, but now an Englishman, Sir William Moore, is trying to close against her the Indian matrimonial market, which was fast becoming her only hope. Sir William, who is a surgeon general, recommends Anglo Indians to stop marrying English girls and get along with native wives. These, he declares, are as good as the Anglo Saxon female, pretty and hardy, with plenty of strength to bear children. They can live in India's climate and do not necessitate the frequent trips to Europe which characterize the English girl married in India. Sir William by his article in the Asiatic Quarterly Review, has made himself almost as much disliked as the average American mother, who on this side, is credited with devoting her life solely to making spinsters of English girls.

MONUMENT BULLETS.

MONUMENT July 25, 1889

Born—At the Monument house, July 25, to Mr and Mrs Harry Vandegrift, a daughter

Monday C D Ford left for Lamar to take charge of his duties in the land office at that place

Mr Fox of St Joseph, Mo, is visiting his uncle, Mr Roberts This is the second trip Mr. Fox has made and now likes it well enough to locate among us

On Wednesday, July 24th, at Colorado Springs, occurred the marriage of Mr. Henry Smith, of Monument, and Miss Laura Haines, of Lake City, Iowa.

Dr Hazelhurst, of Colorado Springs, was summoned to the bedside of Mrs. Rosa Kinz, who is sick with typhoid fever. She is somewhat better at present writing.

Captain Austin and wife, of Denver, have returned to the Monument house for another summer The captain finds this spot the most beneficial of any he has visited, for asthma, from which he has suffered for some time.

Mrs Lind, the aged mother of William Lind, is quite sick, with chances unfavorable for recovery. She went to Minneapolis, Minn, last winter to be treated for cancer of the eye There was an operation to be performed soon, hence the departure of Mr. Lind last Friday for that point.

July 21th occurred the death of little Maud daughter of A B Simpson She was about two years old, was taken sick on Saturday, July 20, with cholera infantum and suffered very much before her death There are other children in the family sick with the same disease. Mr. and Mrs Simpson have the sympathy of the entire community.

The usual Monday rain again this week Trains were delayed on the Rio Grande and Santa Fe forty eight hours on account of some big washouts between Monument and Denver. Sixteen persons came down in carriages to the Monument hotel from Palmer Lake about midnight Monday night as the weather was a little too damp for tent life.

Farini & McMahon's circus has come and gone Tuesday was an ideal circus day The weather was just cool enough to be pleasant and just warm enough to be comfortable At a very early hour in the morning the streets were filled with a happy crowd, and the pretty country girl with her big figured sateen dress added beauty and intelligence to the occasion, while her stalwart brother was no less attractive. The omnipresent small boy was out in force, of course The show was well patronized, but the man on the outside with the three hickory nutshells with the little ball under one you didn't bet on was where the bulk of the money was taken

An Appeal.

Will those who have not paid their subscriptions towards the new club house for Colorado college kindly leave them at an early day at the El Paso bank? Eight thousand dollars more is needed to complete and equip this building and any who can [illegible] carefully asked to increase the amount subscribed by them It is hoped that those who have not as yet given will respond at this time when every dollar donated will be of such great service. No more important object ever came before the citizens of our state, and the cause ought to appeal to all [illegible] Guests in our city who are willing to help on the cause of higher education in the "New West" will have no better opportunity presented to them than this of rendering assistance to Colorado college at this hour in its history.
